. . . and a decade was born. Optimistically the nation looked forward to a new era of technical advancement. But, the best intentions of men must fail when the attitudes of the masses are lacking in necessary support. These masses, comprised of an infinite number of distinct individuals, must, at times, function as one. For, when the components of a unit operate at full capacity, at a progressive pace, the whole, whether it be a nation, or a school, finds greater strength. So, each individual must strive to establish within himself, a continuous desire to better his surrounding conditions. Man is obligated to his fellow men to promote any advancements which might be beneficial to society. Progress must continue not only in technical endeavors, but in social and cultural endeavors as well. Complacency has no place in the modern, tension-ridden world of 1963. As science must forge ahead, so must humanity. No longer are lofty ideals sufficient for the maintenance of prestige. Action must speak today! We must look ahead and we must act accordingly. We must become aware of the need for progress in all aspects of human life. In the words of John F. Kennedy, the President of these United States, "We must move . . .

Good advice and wise counseling are the primary concerns of the nine unit guidance counselors. Miss Mary K. Graham, Dr. Morton Shanberg, and Mr. Edward Dibner compose the Unit A counseling staff. Guiding juniors this year, in Unit C, were Mrs. Olga Hopper, Miss Virginia Bica, and Mr. Joseph Matava. Unit B Counselors are Mr. Nick S. Babich, Miss Norma Smith, and Mr. Bernard J. Silk. The counselors advise students concerning programing, future vocations, and the choice of colleges.

"The life she saves may be your own!" Miss Kathleen Newton, school nurse, has been bandaging bruises and taking temperatures here for twelve years. As nurse to almost 3500 students and staff, Miss Newton can always be found keeping records, giving eye tests, or taking pulses.

Responsible for keeping records of each student and employee of the school, the secretarial staff has become an indispensable part of Heights. The ten secretaries of the central and unit offices perform innumerable tasks ranging from typing stencils to collecting money.

Behind those delicious smells that issue from the cafeteria every morning are nineteen women who make up the cafeteria staff. Headed by Mrs. Georgiana Irons, the staff prepares low-cost meals of high quality for 1600 people daily.

Composition aides, the reading laboratory, the four-level classes, increased emphasis on the composition-a-week program—all are recent innovations in the English department. Dr. Leonard Freyman, co-ordinator, has stated that "the present aims of the English department are to complete a sequential program in the Language Arts, 10-12, at all four levels."

Humanities, a new, non-credit course intended to supplement the English curriculum was introduced this year. The course offers an historical approach to art, music and literature in chronological order, and at present has been offered only to Unit C students.

language, music

"VOTRE FAUTE EST ICI," is a common expression in a French class, and Mr. Day's class is no exception.

"Parlez-vous francais? Tous le parlent ici." The language laboratory has steadily increased in importance since its introduction last year. Through weekly lab sessions it is hoped students will be able to perfect their pronunciation and learn to think in a foreign language. Latin, French, Spanish, Hebrew, and Russian were offered to all language-minded students.

A new first-floor home has been built for the Instrumental Music Department this year. Two completely new band rooms, individual practice rooms, and ensemble practice rooms have been completed to end the third phase of remodeling of the high school. Composed of the A Cappella Choir, the Girls' Glee Club, the Men's Chorus, Concert Bands I and II, and the Orchestra, the Heights Music Department offers much to all students who are musically inclined.

social studies

Juvenile delinquency, mental health, and alcoholism are some of the objects of analysis in the social problems course, which gives students a better understanding of the serious problems that face our society today. Among the many subjects discussed in the international relations course are current world problems and political philosophies. Other courses offered in the department are the economic problems course and the required world history and American history courses. Mr. John Mallan heads a social studies department that is preparing students for the future by enabling them to deal with problems in a more adult fashion economically, socially, and politically.

math, librarians

Because mathematics has become an increasingly important part of research and development in the Space Age, the Mathematics Department has introduced into the curriculum this year two new courses for advanced students. These two courses, probability and statistics, and linear algebra, are designed to supplement the already extensive selection of courses offered by the department, co-ordinated by Mr. Kenneth Selway.

New and better library facilities were added to aid students this year when the library was moved to the remodeled former cafeteria on the third floor. More volumes of all types, a larger seating capacity, and private conference rooms are some of the new library advantages which have increased its popularity with the pupils. In addition students do not need special library permits from class teachers in order to use the library during study halls. Mr. Frank D. Campbell, who is filling the post of head librarian, envisions individual listening booths installed in the library in the near future.

science, domestic science

One of the most important subjects in this age of atoms and missiles is science. A new course of study prepared by the Chemical Education Material Study has been added to the regular chemistry curriculum and has been found most successful.

Homemaking, foods, and sewing are taught in the domestic science courses. Valuable training in home living is gained by girls who take this course.

commercial, industrial arts

To prepare students for the business world is the goal of the Business Education Department, co-ordinated by Mr. Paul Wiseley. The department offers a wide variety of courses, including typing, shorthand, and office machines. The law course enables students to become acquainted with common legal practices, a knowledge of which will help them face the challenges of the 60's.

Graphic arts and printing courses were offered for the first time this year in the Industrial Arts Department. Students worked with two excellent new printing presses, a printing plate burner, and a photo reproducer. New housing for the graphic arts, printing, and other industrial arts facilities were completed for use last fall. Mr. James Nemastil, department co-ordinator, is proud of the expanded new program.

"Physical fitness" has been the key phrase in the new physical education program. All students now have twelve weeks of gym, three, of swimming, and three, of hygiene. It is hoped that through the more intensive physical training now provided by the Physical Education Department students will surpass the requirements of President Kennedy's physical fitness program, set up two years ago.

Modern art, creative drawing, and fine art painting are the primary concerns of the Art Department. Hoping for first place, for the fifth year in a row, in the Regional Scholastic Art Exhibition, the art students are working hard to prepare for the contest.

RAIN AND MUD dominated the Shaker game.

Rain, snow and mud characterized this football season.

The scorebook registered an overall record of one win, eight losses and one tie. In LEL play the one win was against Valley Forge, 32-16. The tie, with Shaker, 14-14, allowed the Tigers to share fifth place with the Red Raiders.

The team, composed mainly of juniors, truly outplayed many of their foes, but, due to inexperience, they could not utilize all their chances to score. Coach Jim Roberts says, "The team never quit. They came back each week as if they were going to win. Most teams would have gone down hill under similar circumstances and just given up."

Coached by Mr. Al Zanetti and Mr. John Faragher, the Junior Varsity Squad finished their season with an overall record of three wins, five losses and one tie, and a third place in the LEL.

Again this season, as in the last, the Golf Team putted its way into the Lake Erie League championship with a total of 14 wins and only 2 losses.

Heights Golfers can usually be seen putting around the greens of Beechmont, Hawthorne, Highland, or Oakwood golf courses.

According to Coach Owen Johnson, Larry Kanter, Seth Marks, Rusty Rubenstein, and Ricky Simon, four senior lettermen from last season's team, contributed immeasurably to the winning of the Lake Erie League championship.

Breaking Heights' shotput record by 7'2" with a throw of 57'2" was just one of Marty Eisner's great accomplishments. That terrific heave sent Marty to the state finals in which he took second. His record-breaking discus distance of 155'10½" bettered the old school mark of 154'.

But the entire Track Team was not as successful. With only three wins and five losses, The Mannmen placed fifth in the district. "That outcome may be attributed," says Coach Mann, "to the fact that the team was composed mostly of sophomores and juniors."

On your mark. Get set. Go!! After hearing this starting signal, Frank Handelman, a senior, out ran all but five boys in the district, which qualified him for the state meet where he placed seventeenth.

Plagued by injuries, with only two senior members, the Cross Country Varsity Team placed fifth in the LEL Individual Meets with a 2 win, 8 loss season record. The Junior Varsity, with a 3 and 0 record, placed first in the LEL Individual Meets.

tennis

Coach Jonathan Miller's netters finished their Fall season with a record of four wins and three losses. This tied them for second place with Shaker and Euclid in the Lake Erie League. Sophomore Joel Schackne captured the LEL singles title.

As a result of the competition of the previous Spring, Paul Kastin and Bob Strauss earned the right to go to Columbus and compete in the state finals.

Tying for third place in the LEL, the Varsity Basketball team had a successful season. Although the inexperienced starting team consisted of five sophomores, one junior, and five seniors, Coach Sil Cornachione felt that they did an exceptional job. John Boose, who was the third highest scorer in the LEL, was followed in team points by Mike Paris.

"Although their final record was not a fair evaluation of the team's ability, junior varsity players accomplished much, for they learned to work as a team!" While observing his boys practicing, Coach Herb Weltman asserts that they learned the true meaning of the phrase "being a team member" which will definitely be helpful when some of the junior varsity members qualify for the varsity team.

Although the varsity diamondmen closed up shop with a win-loss record of four and sixteen, Coach Al Kilgore does not regard the team as having had a disappointing season. Quite the contrary, he says, "The team played well together, and, considering that most of our games were dropped by a margin of only one or two runs, our record could have shown brightly if it hadn't been for the breaks of the game."

Heights was one of the two teams to beat Euclid, the LEL champ, last season. Ed Richman hurled that one, taking it 3-2 in overtime play.

Leading the team in the batting division, was the Captain, Catcher Larry Gross, with a .370 average. He was chosen All-Lake Erie League and All-Scholastic.

wrestling

Wrapping up the season with six wins and only four losses, the varsity Matmen tied for second place in the LEL. "These wrestlers," said Coach Mark Matovina, "truly exceeded my expectations!"

Four of Height's best wrestlers, Stan Berlin, Bill Krug, Jim Loveman, and Paul Polster have qualified for the district tournament. Coach Matovina feels that "prospects for the future are bright."

However, the junior varsity did not fare as well. Although they had only two wins, one tie, and seven losses, Coach Al Kilgore was extremely pleased with his team. "There was a big improvement in the work done by the boys from the beginning of the season until the end." This was the first time on the mat for all of the junior varsity wrestlers, yet they opposed other teams who undoubtedly have had more experience in wrestling.

swimming

"It's the best swim team in the history of Cleveland Heights High School," said Coach Owen Johnson, while describing the 1963 varsity swim team. The swimmers boasted a 17-win, 1-loss season record. The one loss, to previously defeated Shaker, was atoned for when the local splashers revenged themselves by impressively winning the LEL title.

The "Big Six," as they are called by Coach Johnson, Bill Clark, Ron Grant, Doug, John, and Karl Landgraf, and Jim Rose were the key performers for the team this year. Bill Clark, a senior, broke his own 50-yard freestyle record of 22.8 with a time of 22.5. The medley relay team of Bill Clark, John Landgraf, Doug Landgraf, and Jim Rose set a record of 1:44.5 which proclaimed them the fastest team in the state.

Bill Leonards, a varsity diver, corresponds to the varsity swim team in that he has done a tremendous job. Winning 14 out of 16 diving tournaments, Bill placed second in the L.E.L.

OFF TO A FLYING START, The Heights swimmers gained and kept their lead over the Shaker Raiders.

h-club

In order to qualify for membership in H-Club a boy must fulfill the single requirement of having earned a letter in any varsity sport.

"H-Club's basic aims," says Coach Mark Matovina, "are to promote athletics and to be of service to the school." On the day of an athletic event, the members wear their well earned letter sweaters to add to the spirit already created by the student body.

At home basketball games, wrestling matches, and other inter-scholastic contests, H-Club members help to restrain the crowds and to keep score.

Traditionally, the H-Club has served at the Father-Daughter Dinner, and it is ready and eager to serve any school group which petitions its services.

H-CLUB MEMBER Stewart Segall holds the rope preventing spectators from walking onto the basketball court.

"OTHER BOYS can get their names in the B&G, so why can't I?" says Rusty Melcher to Bonnie Klein.

tigers and cheerleaders

School spirit is the product turned out by the Cheerleaders and Tigers. The agile Tigers qualify for the job by their ability in acrobatics and their vivacious personalities. Under the direction of Barb Seitz, head tiger, the girls encourage spirit at varsity football and basketball games. Junior Varsity cheerleaders, led by Linda Bennet, perform at J.V. home games. Varsity cheerleaders are graduated from the J.V.'s on the basis of their cheering and academic proficiency. Head Varsity Cheerleader Carol Wyner and Sponsor Mrs. Jean Martin lead long practice sessions to produce that certain something—school spirit.

Led by Leslie Klein, The Girls Athletic Association functions as a unifying medium for all the girls' athletic clubs. Membership in this large organization is open to all girls.

Opportunities to belong to various athletic clubs and to participate in intramurals that are held after school are afforded by G.A.A.

The annual service drive is held in December. Filling a tree with socks was the goal for this year. The sock donations went to needy children's institutions.

Girls who show outstanding ability in sports are honored at an Awards Recognition Meeting. Letters, trophies and medals are presented.

G.A.A. EXECUTIVE BOARD: First row: N. Fisher, L. Mcshane, J. Fink, J. Jones, L. Stewart. Second row: C. Gunning, J. Eschenhauer, L. Klein, Miss Horn, J. Douglass, P. Manring, M. Pittenger.

JANE DOUGLASS, vice-president, introduces the other G.A.A. Executive Board members during the first G.A.A. meeting of the fall.

EAT MUCH? "Sure do!" say G.A.A. members Bonnie Adelman, Lynn Ruby, and Sherry Bookatz.

COLORFUL COSTUMES dominate as the attention of the crowd is focused on the Swim Cadet program presented at G.A.A.

To aid the gym teachers with their classes and to referee after-school intramurals are the principal services performed by the Gym Cadets.

Members of the Gym Cadets devote seventh period daily for the regulation of their activities in order to maintain an efficient organization. Refereeing games, helping teachers, counting towels, managing showers, taking attendance and caring for gym equipment are some of their varied duties. They also have dinners, a get-acquainted dessert for new cadets, an overnight in the spring of the year, and a money-making project.

Qualifications for entrance into Gym Cadets include recommendations from teachers, a "C" or better average, passing a written test and a practical test, and a personal interview.

Wet and bedraggled is the happy Swim Cadet. Each of these thirty girls is happy because her swimming ability and personality have earned her the right to aid in teaching the girls' swimming classes. Practices, synchronized swimming tryouts, swimming strokes, and interviews are held each semester to provide the basis for selecting new members.

Swim cadets keep busy by acquainting beginning swimmers with the sport, providing challenges for advanced swimmers, and improving their own abilities. Their efforts are also centered on a synchronized swimming exhibition, the annual swim pageant, which was held this year from March 28-30 with the theme of "Fish and Ships."

NOT CLOWNING but on the job are Leslie Klein and Judy Jones as they prepare a synchronized swimming routine.

yellow jackets

For girls interested in sports, acquiring a varsity letter presents a real challenge. The first step involves attending a minimum number of practice games. Then the girls must obtain membership in succession of class, Black and Gold, and all-star teams. The varsity team members are chosen from the last group and they automatically become members of Yellow Jackets.

Led by their president Linda Stewart, Yellow Jackets follow a diverse program including playdays and overnights. A sledding party with H-Club was held during the winter recess. Food and fun are important rewards of membership in Yellow Jackets.

UP, UP, UP, goes Linda Stewart as Phyllis Manring, Judy Jones, and Ladd Douglass watch during after school trampolining.

tennis and swim club

Swim Club enables girls who like to swim to have both planned and free swimming. Girls must be able to do two surface dives to retrieve a ten pound brick, swim the length of the pool in 16 seconds or less, do the crawl for 15 lengths, and do two front and two back dives. Lucille McShane was president of the Swim Club in the fall when the girls played water polo, and Ruth Mesnick presided over the girls' interclass swim meet in the spring.

Any G.A.A. member wishing to improve her tennis game or learn how to play tennis may join the Tennis Club. The girls led by president Margaret Pittenger participate in tournaments with other schools and among their fellow club members.

OUR LAST YEAR

The climax of our senior year at Heights actually marks, for most of us, the climax of the only way of life we have known. College provides a new environment which separates us from family and friends. When we return home, we, our families, and our friends shall undoubtedly seem changed, yet the idea of change does not sadden or upset us. Change is not necessarily the loss of anything really significant. It may be thought of as the enrichment of experience, in our case, achieved through the acquiring of more ideas, friends, accomplishments, and goals. Thus, with enthusiasm of anticipated adventure, we look ahead to the commencement of an excitingly different portion of our lives.

Mary Joy Fratianne

OUR LAST YEAR

Our last year at Heights, our Senior year, is one of both expectation and sadness. Yet, during the final few months of school our feelings will largely be ones of sadness; sadness at leaving a school we have come to respect and—yes, even love, and sadness at terminating so many casual friendships that will not weather the test of time. Only the hope of further happiness in a world centered outside the academic, tempers our despondency and makes our last year one of nostalgia and abandonment.

OUR LAST YEAR

Beneath the chatter about scholarships, tests, jobs, and dates, runs an undercurrent of anticipation. For soon we members of the Senior Class of June 1963 will leave Heights for the last time and step into the future. Now we await our "coming out" like any debutante, excited, impatient, slightly apprehensive. Count the days, the hours, the minutes until Commencement . . . dream about the Senior Dinner, the Prom, the parties, college, work, marriage . . . As we have lived and learned as classmates during these three high school years, so we will work and develop into adult members of a progressive community. The June '63 Class can face the future with a vigorous outlook, with confidence, assurance, and enthusiasm born of a sound educational and social background. With passing time our achievements, joys, cares, and responsibilities will stamp us with the seal of that maturity that each of us strives to attain. The challenge of today's and tomorrow's world is our challenge, ours to acknowledge, to accept, and to answer.

Sue Gelber

OUR LAST YEAR

Great changes in life are most often greeted with mixed emotions. The basic insecurity of life breeds doubt about the future in each person. In this way the June Class of 1963 does not differ from previous classes, for we all are being forced to make a series of rather basic decisions that will determine, to a large extent, our future happiness and well-being. Whether we are anticipating college, the service, marriage, or work after graduation, we all realize that many days of relative security and assuredness of living will soon be gone. In addition, several things we enjoyed most at Heights may not be encountered again. Neither the intense feeling of school allegiance nor the spontaneity of school spirit is likely to be found at college. Our apprenticeship to Heights will soon end, necessitating a hard look at an unknown and somewhat frightening future. But this class is nonetheless eager to accept new challenges and to test itself in a more demanding environment.

LAW AND ORDER are upheld by Student Court Justices: Brenda Silverman, Dan Brush, Alan Cohen, Ken Lowe, Laurie Sutta, Linda Mintz, Margie Kornhauser, and Court Advisor Mr. Albert J. Abramovitz.

EFFICIENCY HAS BEEN THE GUIDE for Student Council officers Marty Samuels, Elliott Rodin, Marilyn Krell, and Bonnie Adleman.

An effective student council is a prerequisite for an active, successful student body. The Student Council, supervised by Mr. Thomas Englert and headed by Marty Samuels, president, is the one organization representative of the entire student body. The Council provides an opportunity for student participation in school management, organizes all-school activities and programs, and serves as a link between students and faculty.

This year a new system of electing representatives was introduced, under which Council members are elected by their entire class with approximately one representative per fifty people. Each representative is assigned homerooms to which he is required to report.

An executive board, consisting of the four officers, presidents of the junior and senior classes, two sophomore representatives, the chief justice of the Student Court and standing committee chairmen, compiles an agenda for each Council meeting and formulates recommendations on all bills submitted to the Council.

CAREFUL POLISHING is given to the World War II memorial in the front hall, by Bill Markey and John Landgraf.

HORDES OF HUNGRY HUMANS are kept well-fed ninth periods at the snack bar by student council representatives Elliot Azoff and Suzi Solomon.

"FIVE DOWN and 1095 to go," sighs Gary Javitch as he and Suzie Solomon prepare popcorn boxes for the night's game.

UNITED APPEAL posters, mounted by Debbie Samuel, helps advertise council's fall charity drive.

"FOUR, UH, UM FIVE . . .!" Student Council representatives Norma Blasenstein and Elaine Bloomfield have trouble counting ballots.

student council

In order to finance many of its projects, the Council assumed control this year of the snack bar and concessions at athletic events. Each representative was called upon several times during the year to help operate the projects. The profits from fund-raising help support two foreign exchange students, provide a scholarship for one graduating student, and pay for the band's transportation to "away" football games, besides meeting any sudden unforeseen expenditures which occur during the school year.

Five standing committees—campus improvement, assemblies, constitution, charity, and concessions—carry out the Council's many duties. Two charity drives are conducted annually. In addition, an "ad hoc" committee was created this year to help publicize Council activities in a more efficient manner.

The Student Council also sponsors the Homecoming weekend, the TWIRP dance, and the all-school party.

Another phase of student government is the Student Court. Under this system students violating school rules are called before a court of seven student justices elected by the entire school and are given a fair trial with subsequent punishment meted out by the court.

"UNOFFICIAL HECKLER," Roger Lewin, amuses Council members with his impressive oratory.

"BEAT BRUSH RAGGED," the 12B class's entry, took top honors among the homecoming floats.

ACHING FEET, CRUSHED TOES, but nevertheless plenty of spirit, all typified the huge crowd which turned out for the semi-formal dance.

1963 Homecoming Queen, Debbie Sholl

homecoming

The long-anticipated and extensively-planned Homecoming festivities were carried out amid great fanfare by a spirited student body during the week-end of October 28-29.

Homecoming Chairman Mary Joy Fratianne co-ordinated the whole week-end which began with an all-school assembly, at which the eleven entries in the float competition and the final candidates for Homecoming queen were presented. Winning floats were the 12B class's "Raggedy Ann," the Choir's "Submarine," and the Swim Cadets' "Octopus," which placed first, second, and third respectively.

That night in a hard-fought game, the Brush Arcs defeated the Tigers 22-8, marring the hope for the indefectability of the week-end. Highlighting the half-time program was the crowning of the queen, Debbie Sholl, by Marty Samuels, president of Student Council. Following the crowning, the lovely queen and her court were serenaded by the Men's Chorus and the Girls' Glee Club.

At the Saturday night semi-formal dance which culminated the week-end, the Senior B's won their WHMHD (We'll Have More at the Homecoming Dance) challenge to the rest of the school. Hilarious entertainment was offered during the evening by the "Football Cantata," directed by Ralph Lewitt and produced by Lynn Epstein.

Chairmen for the Homecoming week-end were: Mary Joy Fratianne, chairman; Mike Robinson, assembly chairman; Dana Williams and Carolyn Weider, half-time chairmen; Gloria Schwartz, after-game dance chairman; Pat Becker, semi-formal dance chairman; and Roger Lewin, publicity chairman.

girls' cabinet

The Girls' Cabinet is an organization comprised of representatives from each homeroom in the school and was created to promote the general welfare and happiness of Heights High girls. The group goes beyond the unit divisions in its efforts to unite all Heights girls.

Under the leadership of its president, Phyllis Manring, and the counseling of Miss Mary Ryan, the group makes many outstanding contributions to the school, among which was the new code of dress regulations.

Cabinet's busy social schedule includes the Big-Little Sister Party, the Father-Daughter Dinner, and the Mother-Daughter Tea.

Representatives are elected in individual homerooms. Executive board members are elected by all of the girls in the school.

"BUT IT SAYS third period, not fifth!" a bewildered father complains to a Girls' Cabinet usher at the annual open house.

"GIRLS, GIRLS, GIRLS!" was Elvis's plea, and all he had to do was drop in at the Big-Little Sister party in September!

GLEE CLUB OFFICERS: Phyllis Helper, Leah Hayden, Faith Schuzzler, Pam Monseaux, Peggy Samuels, Maria Vonn Magnus. Absent: Debbi Smith.

girls' glee club

The rich tones of melody and harmony which echo through the halls sixth period each day are those of the Girls' Glee Club. This group of vocally-talented girls combine their talents to form an organization which develops not only musical ability, but also leadership and social graces.

During the year the group has performed at the Homecoming Game, the Home and Flower Show, their annual spring and winter concerts, school assemblies and before parent organization groups.

Membership is open to any girl who demonstrates musical ability and a willingness to work and cooperate with others.

men's chorus

Men's Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Claire McElfresh, seeks to develop in boys musical talent and an appreciation of music in all of its forms.

They performed in conjunction with the Girls' Glee Club, this past year, at homecoming weekend, area junior high schools, their annual spring and winter concerts, and for various outside organizations. This year, the Glee Club and Men's Chorus also staged an "awards dessert" for parents and members at which deserving seniors were awarded for outstanding service.

Membership is open to any boy having an interest and ability in vocal music.

concert band I

Members of the Heights Band and Orchestra moved from their crowded, cramped fourth floor quarters to roomy new quarters on the first floor early last fall. The organizations' new home has one full-sized bandroom, one smaller bandroom for sectional rehearsals, several practice rooms, and enlarged staff rooms and offices.

Concert Band I put the new facilities to good use, preparing for the spring and fall concerts, and the district and state contest, entered in March and April. The band was ably directed by Mr. Kaarlo Mackey.

One of the main requirements for playing in Concert Band I is playing in the Marching Band each fall. The marching band began practice in Oberlin, Ohio a week before school opened and held practice sessions four nights a week after school, many times until past 5:00 P.M. This diligent work was evident in the precision shows performed during half-time at Heights football games. The band completed a successful season in the face of bad weather, so bad that it prevented the band from marching at nearly half of the games.

The social highlight of the season was the Military Ball on November 10. It was attended by members of all the Lake Erie League bands.

SECOND IN COMMAND to director Kaarlo Mackey, are the band senior officers: S. Graff, M. Charyns, S. Katz, V. Coen, R. Fried, M. Lorber, P. Coppedge, A. Ziegel, M. Samuels, J. Kitts.

DIGNITY AND GOOD-HUMOR mark the Orchestra Senior Officers: S. Meisels, E. Orton, R. Hurwitz, S. Kaetzel, S. Norr, B. Robinson, M. Rose, N. Eichel, M. Grey, R. Polster, C. Jenks.

In the fall of 1962, the Heights High Orchestra came under the leadership of a new director, Mr. Kaarlo Mackey, who last year directed only the bands. The conductor for the past several years, Mr. John Farinacci, was promoted to the position of Unit C principal, and the instrumental music department presented him with a plaque in honor of his service at the Thanksgiving Concert on November 21, 1962.

Besides playing in the annual fall and spring concerts, the Orchestra toured New England during spring vacation. They visited, played, and went sightseeing in many historic spots including Lexington, Concord, and Boston during the trip.

DIFFICULT MUSIC is mastered through constant practice by Robert Cole.

concert band II

Concert Band II prepares students for entrance into Concert Band I, and also provides a good general music education for members. This organization played at the spring and fall concerts and entered the same band contest as did Concert Band I.

The Heights' band and orchestra organization raised funds to pay for equipment and activities in several new ways this year. They purchased and installed the paper, pen, and pencil vending machines seen in various spots around the school and volunteers used their spare time during the lunch periods and period nine to run the bookstore.

SMOOTH OPERATION of the band is assured through the work of the staff heads: N. Eichel, B. Robinson, N. Serajin, S. Norr, M. Charyns, M. Rose, J. Glazer, L. Weiderhorn, S. Miesels, A. Ziegel.

An association with the term "best" is an achievement few groups can accomplish, and which even fewer are able to maintain. Yet, the Heights Choir, led by Mr. George Strickling, has maintained its superior status through local, national, and even international accolades.

The foremost reason for the success of the Heights Choir lies in the group's most important facet, the individual. He is selected as a choir member by the merits of his character as much as his vocal ability. Every member devotes much time both during and after school. The result of this individual sacrifice is the remarkable blending of voices produced year after year.

"national honor society"

An honorary organization created to recognize outstanding student achievement, the National Honor Society judges prospective members on the basis of four personal qualities—character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Money for scholarship gifts is acquired by National Honor Society members in the traditional manner of selling bookcovers at the beginning of each semester. Miss Virginia Bica, advisor, predicts that three scholarships will be given this year.

black and gold

The most significant student source of school news is the Black and Gold. Published semi-weekly, the B&G provides an accurate and interesting report and analysis of school functions and general news pertinent to Heights students. The only prerequisites for staff membership are completion of Journalism 1 and II. The Black and Gold is rated as a first-class newspaper, the National Scholastic Press Association's highest honor for a high school newspaper. It has also been named the outstanding high school newspaper in the area by the Northeastern Ohio Journalism Association.

All editorial policy is formulated by the editorial board, consisting of Dinah Esral, Gary Arlen, Ronnie Sharp, Hila Axelrod, Judi Schulman, Donna Trugman, managing editor, Steve Penner and Linda Neuger, editors-in-chief, and sponsored by Mrs. Anne Nunamaker. Members of the journalism classes serve as reporters. All members of the staff solicit advertisements. Business manager was Courtney Shaw.

the caldron

From cover to cover, the 1963 Caldron introduced a fresh approach in its style and format. Under the leadership of Ruth Rosen, editor-in-chief, and Mr. Peter Szemersky, advisor, the staff attempted a thorough modernization of the book, having more pages, more color pictures, and, for the first time in over twenty years, a new cover. Staff members devote between seven and ten hours per week taking pictures, writing copy, and making page plans to meet their monthly deadlines. Although the Caldron comes out only once a year it requires a full year's labor and effort to make it materialize. Planning for each book begins in April of the preceding year and work continues through March.

Pupils are recommended for the staff by their English teachers. After a nine-week training class followed by a test and final interview by the editors, staff members are selected.

WITH FEELINGS OF SATISFACTION, editor Eric Joseph and Mrs. Hermine Eisen unpack the new CRESTS.

"Lit'ry" is the word for the CREST staff as it publishes semi-annually, works of Heights High students and provides an excellent outlet for creative writing. The staff, led this year by editors Eric Joseph, Semester I and Carl Jenks and Lucy Schmidt with Rusty Melsher, managing editor, Semester II, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Hermine Eisen, accepts short stories, book reviews, essays, poems, and critiques from the student body.

Staff members are selected through performance in English classes and also on the basis of a literature analysis test. Illustration of articles is done by an art staff chosen by, and under the supervision of, Mr. Vincent Ferarra.

CRITICAL REVIEW is carried on by all members of the CREST staff, as exemplified by Larry Fuldauer.

quill and scroll

Quill and Scroll, the national honor society for high school journalists, attempts to improve its members' writing ability and intensify their literary interests. Members must be journalists of superior ability and must have been on the staff of either the Black and Gold, Caldron, Crest or Heights Handbook for at least one semester. Highlighting the prestigious organization's activities for the year is its annual impressive initiation ceremony.

Every Saturday between November and March, members of the debate club meet at various high schools throughout greater Cleveland to participate in local tournaments to compete for state and national honors. Members of the debate team are chosen from the club's membership. Last June, while only juniors, a team consisting of Roger Lewin and Ronnie Rubin won the Ohio championship and represented the state in the national contest at Montana, placing third.

Any student interested in forensics is eligible for membership in the club. Mrs. Katherine Rocker, sponsor, says, "Debating is excellent training toward a successful life. Since it requires a logical mind and clear perception, it affords the debater the opportunity to analyze situations about him clearly and efficiently."

Future Teachers of America members are already making plans to advance in their chosen field. To obtain membership in F.T.A., which is a national organization for high school students, a student must have an accumulative average of C+ or better, and be willing to give up one period per day to become a teacher's aid.

One of the primary functions of F.T.A., led by Mrs. Margaret Arnold, has been providing a teacher-aid service for members of the faculty. In this way, the club members not only help a teacher with his work, but learn much about grading and classroom manner.

This past year the members participated in several enlightening programs which included guest speakers. F.T.A. members held their annual student-teacher breakfast and all-school party booth this spring.

managers, boosters, asc

Boosters and Athletic Service Club work toward a common goal: promoting student body support for the athletic teams, through service to the athletic department. Selling tickets for, and collecting them during, the athletic events are the primary duties of ASC. Bonnie Adelman and Linda Mintz served as co-chairmen.

Under the chairmanship of Jane Douglass and Debbie Beard, the Managers served as ushers for all school programs and special events.

A virtually unknown inter-scholastic sport, the Table Tennis Club, under the direction of Mr. Noval MacAfee, has carried on intramural games with other LEL schools. Anyone interested in table tennis is eligible for membership. All members are ranked on a ladder basis in which players move up by a system of challenges for higher positions. Again this year, the club sponsored its annual student-faculty match.

In the words of its sponsor Mr. Larry Bauer, the only requirements for membership in the Bridge Club are " . . . a slight knowledge of the game, a reasonable amount of intelligence, and a passionate, ardent, uncontrollable desire for improvement in contract bridge." Members play only for fun and to improve their ability and technique.

Any student interested in chess can join the Chess Club. Members of the chess team are picked from the club's best players. The chess team is affiliated with the Cleveland Chess Association and is in the Cleveland Scholastic League. The club's advisor is Mr. Henry Bertodotto.

MEN OF INTELLECT, Chess Club officers Robert Weiskopf, Howie Budin and Colin Rammekamph seem to be concentrating on something other than their chess game.

The Senior and Junior Literary Clubs promote an appreciation of literature and friendship between girls with similar interests. Qualifications for membership include a B average in English and no grade lower than C in other subjects, an interest in literature, and recommendations from English teachers.

Events which highlighted the past year were guest speakers, service projects for hospitals, and a theater party during the Winter Recess.

unit b girls' council

This year for the first time Unit B has sponsored a girls' group which helps organize, coordinate, and publicize special events for the unit. Guided by Miss Norma Smith, and headed by Maddy Fain, president, Unit B Girls' Council is composed of all of the girls in Unit B. Membership on the Executive Board is gained by applications and elections. The Council ushered at Commencement, the Senior Dinner, College Night, and the 10B Orientation.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAMS are folded by Sue Gelber and Lois Polster.

This year a chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America was chartered, with Mr. Carl Monastra acting as faculty advisor. Business course students are eligible for membership in the club. The purposes of the organization, as set down in the constitution, are to "develop competent, aggressive business leadership," and to enable club members to make "an intelligent choice" regarding business careers. Activities planned for club members include field trips and co-operative operation this year, with full control of operation next fall, of the paperback bookstore.

radio, stage, audio-visual

Students who enjoy preparing and operating stage equipment and scenery find an outlet for their talents on the stage crew. The stage crew plays an important part in the preparation of such school activities as the assemblies, all-school party, military ball, senior prom, and band concerts. Led by student captain Robert Weygand and faculty advisor Mr. Gerard Gentile, the members assemble the risers, install microphones, and build scenery for various school productions. The stage crew's work continues during an event also, as they operate the curtains, adjust the lights, and handle the scenery.

Radio engineers learn to operate the electrical equipment involved in presenting announcements over the public address system. Under the direction of Mr. Merritt Clifford, they are responsible for the morning show and the homeroom announcements.

Knowledge of audio-visual devices qualifies any Heights boy to become a member of Visual Aids. Mr. Laskey and Alan Paige head this vital extracurricular activity, which meets on a day to day basis. Visual Aids show movies ordered by class teachers in order to supplement the material covered by class work.

Each of the five language clubs attempts to stimulate a further interest in the language and to provide insight into the culture and life of the people speaking that language as natives.

Among the outstanding activities of the Russian club this year were trips to see the Bolshoi Ballet, the Leningrad Philharmonic, the movie "Ivan the Terrible," and also a Russian Orthodox Church service. Also included in their program were folk dancing and singing. Mrs. May Simon advised the group.

The Spanish club, sponsored by Mrs. Catherine Lee, included in its activities movies, records, and speakers from Cuba as part of its program.

The French club, under the supervision of Mrs. Lilian Koval, held monthly dinner meetings at a French restaurant followed by round table discussions in French on topics of current interest.

In studying ancient Roman culture, the Latin club, sponsored by Miss Sarah Wensell, heard guest speakers and panel discussions and saw movies concerning Rome and the Roman empire. Members of the club also played Latin games:

This year, the Hebrew club, under the direction of Miss Lillian Sugarman, conducted a program featuring speakers, Israeli singing and dancing, and movies of Israel.

Interest in any facet of the theater or in fine arts qualifies a student for membership in Theatre '62-'63. This group performed several plays of a wide and varied nature this year, among which were "Dear Delinquent" and "Romans."

In addition to public performance Theater '62'63 members presented student productions such as "Our Town" and "Minor Miracles." Several times at these meetings led by Theatre '62'63 President Myrle Shreibman and faculty advisor, Mrs. Illa Vere B. Carnes, and guest speakers from professional theaters conducted lectures.

Through acting, directing, and technical work in Theatre '62'63, students may earn points toward membership in Thespians, a national theatrical honor society. Pupils who have earned ten points are admitted to Thespians at a formal induction ceremony.

Office aids sort mail, deliver request slips, file absence slips and programs, and run errands for unit principals, counselors, and secretaries.

Library aids are indispensable to the efficient operation of the enlarged library facilities. Helping students locate books, and checking in, carding, and shelving the vast number of books used daily in the library, keep the aids busy.

Order is maintained in the corridors during class periods by the hallguards. They assure that only students with authorization pass through the halls during classes. Often they may act as guides for visitors.

Unit offices coordinate the hallguards' activities, and each unit office supplies students for the floor on which it is located.

PEEK-A-BOOK! Linda Goldstein plays her own version of an old childhood game.

"JULIET, JULIET, wherefore art thou, Juliet? Here am I, your Romeo!" calls Larry Hill to Elaine Melamed.

ENGARDE, OFF-GUARD HALL-GUARD, Michael McComas!

"A MINUTE ON THE LIPS, a lifetime on the hips," doesn't seem to faze eager-eaters Teri Zucker, Rochelle Wyman, and Rozanne Sherman.

STUDENT LEADERS and faculty members address the 10B girls at the orientation assembly.

OH RATS! The janitor always gets the good stuff.

IF THE SHOE FITS wear it, thinks smiling Paula Schonberg.

LADIES BEFORE GENTLEMEN was a rule in line with other Twirp customs, as Sue Gelber and Wendy Becker coax their dates through a heart at the annual TWIRP dance.

"MIRROR, MIRROR ON THE WALL, who is fairest of them all?" Debbie Beard's Prom reflection seems to answer.

"LIFE IS SO BORING without you, dear, but somehow I'm managing!"

In Memoriam

Ralph C. Williams

His legacy to youth will inspire his students to move forward in the sixties and forever after.
